

YALE UNIVERSITY PRE-DOCTORAL FELLOWS/RESEARCH ASSISTANTS

Full-Time Position at Yale University
Professors Zack Cooper, Martin Gaynor, and Carnegie Mellon University

November 2015

Zack Cooper (Yale) is seeking to hire a highly skilled and motivated individual to work as a full-time research assistant for at least one year. The successful applicant will be located at Yale University and will work on the Health Care Pricing Project analyzing pricing dynamics in the health care industry together with John Van Reenen (London School of Economics), and Martin Gaynor (Carnegie Mellon).

Candidates should have a long-term interest in pursuing research related to economics. Prior background in health economics is useful but not necessary. Preference will be given to detail-oriented applicants with previous research and programming experience, particularly in working with large datasets in software such as Stata, SAS, and MySQL.

There is the potential (indeed preference) for employment for a second year. Salary is competitive with other research assistant positions.

To apply, please email Zack Cooper (zack.cooper@yale.edu) a pdf document titled “lastname_firstname” and containing the following material:

- 1) A cover letter describing your interest, dates available, your familiarity with programming language, your prior research experience, and the names, email addresses, and phone numbers for 2-3 references;
- 2) A Current CV;
- 3) A transcript;
- 4) A writing sample
